Mary Giovannini Scholarship Fund Reaches Endowment Level

More than $10,000 has been raised to endow the Dr. Mary Giovannini Scholarship fund.

The scholarship will be awarded to business majors with financial need who have made academic improvement while attending Truman.

Giovannini, professor of business administration, retired at the end of the fall 2004 semester after 31 years of service to the Division of Business at Truman State University.

During her career, Giovannini taught business communications, information systems, and organizational behavior courses.

She was instrumental in establishing writing standards in the business and accounting curriculums and served as convenor for the business administration discipline. Giovannini also established and directed the "Europe in Transition" study abroad summer experience. Since the mid-1980s, Giovannini had served as coordinator of the Freshman/Truman Week experience.

For more information on establishing endowed funds at Truman, contact the Office of Advancement at 785.4133.

Rothermel Finalist for Japan Tour

Dylan Rothermel, a junior economics major from Homewood, Ill., was recently selected as a finalist for the United States National Debate Team tour Japan. Rothermel was one of only eight undergraduate and graduate students nationwide chosen to compete for the two slots available for the tour. He is the first Truman State University student to be a finalist for the process, sponsored by the Committee on International Discussion and Debate of the National Communication Association (NCA). The students chosen for the two spots on the team were from Cornell University and Emory University.

"Simply being a finalist is a significant honor for Dylan," noted Kevin Minch, associate professor of communication and director of forensics, "because most applicants for the international tours tend to be graduate students with significant debating and coaching experience."

Rothermel brought his own stellar record to the competition. He was among the top 16 teams nationally in parliamentary debate in 2006 and has reached at least semifinals in three of the nation's most prestigious round-robin tournaments.

As part of the try-out process, held at the NCA national office in Washington, D.C., Dec. 1-2, Rothermel presented a lecture on the history of militarism in Japan from the Tokugawa period through World War II, and participated in a policy-style debate over the question of whether the United States should support the full-scale rearmament of Japan.

The Committee on International Discussion and Debate has existed since 1922 and has sponsored debate team exchanges with Britain, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria, the Philippines, the Baltic Republics and the former USSR. Truman has a long tradition of participation in these exchanges, stretching-back to the early part of the 20th century. Truman has hosted teams on campus from Britain, Russia, Japan and Ireland as a part of the program.

Rothermel joins his teammates in the resumption of regular competitive travel in January with two tournaments in Seward, Neb., Jan. 18-22.

Group members will receive an overall orientation to the Student Recreation Center, including use of cardiovascular and weight room equipment, and various assessments of physical health.

TruFit members will meet from noon-1 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. Meetings will begin Jan. 9 and continue through April 11.

Any Truman faculty or staff member who is at least 10 pounds overweight and not currently engaging in regular physical activity is encouraged to join. ### Staff Council Sponsors American Red Cross Blood Drive

11 a.m.-4 p.m. • Dec. 20 • Student Union Building Conference Room

Due to the recent winter weather, the blood drives and fixed sites were closed. This has caused the current blood supply to dwindle to less than a half a day. The Red Cross desperately needs O- and B- blood especially.
