Distinguished Author to Speak at Graduation

Paul L. Gaston, III

Paul L. Gaston, III, Trustee Professor at Kent State University in Ohio, will serve as the May 2013 Commencement speaker.

At Kent State University he teaches graduate seminars in English literature and higher education administration. Gaston is also an influential author and well-known speaker on higher education reform. As one of four authors of "The Degree Qualifications Profile," published by the Lumina Foundation, he has a key role in defining what academic degrees mean in terms of learning outcomes and has worked with more than 50 colleges and universities in adapting the DQP to their needs.

Gaston's newest book, "Higher Education Accreditation: How It's Changing, Why it Must," will be published in October 2013. His three most recent books are "General Education and Liberal Learning," "The Challenge of Bologna: What U.S. Higher Education Has to Learn from Europe and Why It Matters That We Learn It," and "Revising General Education," with Jerry Gaff.

Gaston earned his Bachelors of Arts degree in English from Southeastern Louisiana University and his advanced degrees in English from the University of Virginia.

Commencement ceremonies are scheduled for 2 p.m. May 11 at Stokes Stadium.

CAMPUS INVITED TO DIALOGUE ON DQP

Education expert Dr. Peter Ewell will be visiting Truman May 14 for a campus-wide dialogue concerning the Degree Qualifications Profile (DQP).

The event runs from 12-2:30 p.m. in the Student Union and will include lunch, breakout sessions and an open forum with Ewell.

In addition to being a nationally known education expert, Ewell is a former member of the Truman Board of Governors and was a consultant to the University during the mission change in the 1980s.

More information is available at luminafoundation.org/publications/other\_pubs.html.

RSVPs are required by May 6 and can be made at eventmanager.truman.edu/generallist.asp.

EQUESTRIAN TEAM MEMBERS ADVANCE TO NATIONALS

After competing in Zone 7 Championships, three members from the Truman Equestrian Team will advance to the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association National Championships.

The Zone 7 Championships took place April 6 at West Texas A&M where Caitlin Shaefer, Danielle Witt and Elizabeth Miller all qualified for nationals. Schaefer placed second in the walk-trot equitation, Witt was awarded second place in the novice equitation on the flat and Miller placed second in the open equitation on the flat.

Zone championships are the final step for IHSA champions. From this competition, the top two individuals qualify to move on to nationals. Miller, Schaefer and Witt will travel to Harrisburg, Pa., for the 2013 national competition May 2-5.

PARTY WITH T-PAIN

Graduating seniors have the opportunity to receive an invitation to "Party with T-Pain" May 6. To receive an invite, seniors can give a gift of $20 or more to any University fund by May 1.

Students may choose any Foundation fund that is important to them.

For more information, or details concerning the invitation, a donation or the Foundation funds available, visit alumni.truman.edu/Graduates/2013/PartyWithT-Pain\_Main.asp or call 660.785.4133

Gooch Honored with Governor's Excellence in Teaching Award

Warren Gooch, professor of music, was given the Governor's Award for Excellence in Teaching April 3 at a luncheon at the University of Missouri.

Each year, the Governor's Award is presented to one faculty member at each institution of higher education in Missouri. Gooch was the recipient of the 2012 Educator of the Year award at Truman. He was one of 15 recipients across the state that was honored with the award.

The awards, which are not monetary, are based on effective teaching, innovating course design and delivery, effective advising, service to the university community, commitment to high standards of excellence and success in nurturing student achievement.

This year's featured speaker at the luncheon was Jack Magruder, Truman President Emeritus and Professor of Chemistry Emeritus.

Warren Gooch was congratulated by President Paino and Dr. David Russell, Commissioner of Higher Education, when he received his award at the Excellence in Teaching Awards Luncheon April 3 at the University of Missouri.

City Council Acknowledges Grad Ed Week

Students and faculty members from Truman graduate programs accept a proclamation in recognition of Graduate Education Week from Kirksville Mayor Richard Detweiler during a city council meeting April 15. Universities from around the state celebrated Graduate Education Week April 13-20 in an effort to increase public awareness about the impact and outcomes of graduate education. Currently, graduate degree programs in Missouri are preparing more than 60,900 students for leadership in their fields. Pictured, front row, left to right: graduate students Amy Sanders, Sara Mennemeier and Jourdan Nichols. Back row, left to right: Detweiler; Shelia Garlock, assistant professor of communication disorders; Janet Gooch, dean of the School of Health Sciences and Education; and David Giovagnoli, graduate student.

“Truman Steel” to Perform April 29

“Truman Steel,” will be presenting their first full length spring concert at 8 p.m. April 29 in the Ophelia Parrish Performance Hall. Michael Bump will be directing the ensemble. The concert will feature a wide variety of traditional Trinidadian calypsos, as well as songs, socas, afro-cuban and jazz-fusion arrangements for the steel band. Admission is free.

NOTABLES

Five classics students from Truman, Kathleen Donelson, Madeline Oberman, Callyn Burgess, Hannah Lantz and Claire Drone-Silvers, assisted in running the Missouri Junior Classical League convention in Columbia, Mo., April 19-20. The convention takes place annually to showcase and celebrate the talents of Missouri’s middle and high school-aged scholars of Greek and Latin through academic and creative arts competitions. Drone-Silvers also served as the 2012-13 secretary of the Missouri Senior Classical League. They were accompanied by Truman graduate English student and classics alumnus David Giovagnoli, who was elected state co-chair for the 2013-14 academic year, co-leading a committee of Latin teachers from across the state to plan the next convention and other MOJCL activities.

Two classics students from Truman, Jordan Dillon and Hannah Lantz, travelled to Wake Forest University from April 5-7 to attend the 85th Annual Eta Sigma Phi convention as national officers of that organization, the national collegiate classics honorary society. Elected at the previous convention, Dillon served as the megas hyparchos (Grand Vice-President) and Lantz served as the megale crysophylax (Grand Treasurer). This was the first time that two national officers have been from the same university since the early days of the organization, and this was the third year that Truman has had national officers. In addition to their magisterial duties, the two were part of the winning certamen (quiz bowl) team.

Jerrold Hirsch, professor of history, is acting as a consultant to an exhibit being organized by the Frazier History Museum, Louisville, entitled “American Eye/Kentucky Hand: The Index of American Design in Kentucky.” The exhibition is scheduled to open in early 2015. He attended a planning meeting at the Museum, April 9.

FORENSICS TEAM FINISHES SEASON WITH NATIONAL HONORS

The Truman Forensic Union earned top debate honors at the National Forensic Association’s national championship tournament hosted by Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va., April 18-22.

Myra Milam, a junior communication disorders major, was awarded the first place speaker award in the Lincoln-Douglas Debate Division, topping 67 qualifying speakers from around the country. Milam also reached the final round of single-elimination competition, taking second. This marks the first time that a Truman student has won the first place speaker award or competed in the final debate of the tournament.

Maddie Ebert, sophomore political science major and Milam’s teammate, reached the octafinal or “sweet sixteen” round of the tournament. Nick Gorman, junior economics major, reached the double-octafinal round. Gorman was also ranked the 10th best speaker in the tournament. The team placed third overall in the nation in sweepstakes competition, a cumulative measure of performance among all Lincoln-Douglas competitors.

Qualifiers for the national tournament contributing to these team awards, in addition to Milam, Ebert and Gorman, include: Mackenzie Barnes, Alex Bisges, Blake Bixler, Codi Caton, David Cook, Alex Gregor, Max Highsmith, Dillon Laaker, Arielle Long-Seabra and Sarah Muir.

This concludes the competitive season for the Forensic Union.

NOTES

Many Truman faculty, staff and students are involved in helping raise money and gathering canned food for multiple local organizations. One of those organizations is the Food Bank of Central and Northeast Missouri at sharefoodbringhope.org. Walmart is splitting $3 million to 100 different food banks across the county and the decision on who gets that money is based upon the number of votes each one gets through April 30. A person can vote every day. To vote, go to wm8.walmart.com/Hunger.

The Staff Council BBQ will take place from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. May 3 at the University Club for all University staff. The menu includes grilled hamburgers, hotdogs, veggie burgers, fresh fruit and vegetables. Attendees are encouraged to bring a dessert to share and to remember to sign up for door prizes when they arrive. RSVP via email to cdavis@truman.edu. An RSVP is not required but greatly appreciated.

The Truman in Washington Program is looking for any students who will be interning in Washington, D.C., this summer. If you will be in D.C., or know a student who will be, please contact Jay Self, Truman in Washington Program director, at selfjw@truman.edu.

ATHLETICS TRIVIA NIGHT/SILENT AUCTION

7 p.m. • May 4

ASSESSMENT AT TRUMAN

How Does Truman Measure Up?

Satisfaction on Campus

While incoming students may have very high expectations for Truman, it appears that overall their expectations are being met by the time they graduate.

In 2012, 88.1 percent of first-year students surveyed reported that "academic experiences... will be the most important part of college." At the same time, 90.7 percent of senior "students evaluated their entire educational experience at Truman as good or excellent," and 84.5 percent of seniors reported they "would probably choose Truman again if they started over." You can access this data, as well as other interesting facts about how Truman is doing via the Assessment Almanac, at assessment.truman.edu/almanac/index.asp.
