Board of Governors Approves Enrollment Fee Increase and Elects Officers

The Truman Board of Governors approved an increase in enrollment fees of 8.3 percent for Missouri residents and 9.8 percent for non-Missouri residents for the 2003-2004 academic year at the Feb. 8 meeting held on campus.

In-state enrollment fees for full-time students will be $4,600, a $356 increase per year. Out-of-state costs for full-time students will increase to $8,400, a $756 increase per year.

The Board approved continuing the $90 per semester Recreation Center fee, a $40 per semester Student Union fee, a $25 per semester student activity fee, a $2 per semester fee to support student government and a $1 per semester fee to support the Student Association of Missouri.

The Board set the room and board fee for 2003-2004 at $5,072 for a two-person room at the December 2002 Board meeting.

Tom Jayne from St. Louis, was elected president of the Truman State University Board of Governors. Michael Schwend from Kirksville, and Sarah Burkemper from Troy, Mo., were selected as vice president and secretary, respectively.

Jayne is a partner in the law firm of Thompson Coburn in St. Louis. He received his undergraduate degree from Westminster College in 1973. He received his juris doctorate from the University of Missouri-Columbia School of Law. Jayne was appointed to the Board in January 2000.

Jayne, a native of Kirksville, is the son of Marietta and the late Ed Jayne who were both former Board members.

Schwend is the chief executive officer of Preferred Family Healthcare, Inc. of Kirksville. He earned two degrees from Truman, a Bachelor of Science degree in psychology in 1983 and a Master of Arts degree in 1990 in counseling and guidance. Schwend also earned a master's degree in business administration from William Woods University in 1997. Schwend was appointed to the Board in March 2001.

Burkemper is the public administrator for Lincoln County and is a certified public accountant in Troy, Mo. Burkemper was a Pershing Scholar and graduated cum laude with two bachelor's degrees from Truman in 1992. She also received a master's in accountancy from Truman and a master's in international affairs from Washington University in 1997. Burkemper was appointed to the Board in March 2001.

Kohlenberg Lyceum Series Presents San Jose Taiko

The Kohlenberg Lyceum Series is pleased to present the San Jose Taiko at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 11, in Baldwin Auditorium.

San Jose Taiko was founded in 1973 by young Asian-Americans searching for an artistic and musical outlet to convey their unique experiences as third-generation Japanese Americans. They turned to Japan for inspiration and selected the symbolic taiko, the Japanese drum, as their instrument of expression.

The music of San Jose Taiko weaves traditional Japanese sounds with the beat of world rhythms including African, Balinese, Brazilian, Latin and jazz percussion.

Tickets are free for Truman students, faculty and staff and are available in the Student Activities Board Office or in the Center for Student Involvement, both located in the Student Union Building lower level. Call 785.4016 for information.

Martin Luther King Jr. Scholars Program Announced

The U.S. Department of Education is announcing the second year of the Martin Luther King Jr. Scholars Program. Under this initiative, college juniors, seniors or graduate students are eligible to apply for an eight-week, paid internship this summer in the U.S. Department of Education in Washington, D.C. Up to ten students will be selected, and can be from any field of study. Visit <http://www.ed.gov>, <http://www.studentjobs.gov> or the Truman Financial Aid Office in MC 103 for more information. Internship at Truman Library Offers Unique Experience for Students

Truman State University is pleased to announce the fourth annual paid internship for a Truman State University student at the Harry S. Truman Presidential Museum and Library, located in Independence, Mo. The internship has been made possible by a generous endowment from the family of Fred and Ethel Schwengel.

The internship is for the fall 2003 or spring 2004 semester, and is open to all Truman juniors and seniors who meet University requirements for an internship. Students can earn up to 15 hours of credit for this full-time internship. After being selected by a University committee and the Truman Library staff, the intern may work in a variety of areas of the Library including archives, public relations, marketing, educational programming, museum development or visitor services. Assignment will be based on intern's abilities and interests along with the Library's needs. The internship offers a $2,000 stipend.

Guidelines for the internship require that selected interns must immerse themselves in the study of President Truman. At the conclusion of the internship, the intern will prepare a paper on his or her experiences at the Museum and Library and on a specific study of the Truman presidency. The internship schedule will allow time for the intern to research the project.

Potential interns must have strong communication skills, both written and verbal, strong organizational skills, the ability to work independently on multiple tasks, basic computer skills, dependability and self-motivation.

Applications must be received by March 1. For more information and applications, please contact Jeff Gall, associate professor of history and social science, at 785.4867 or jgall@truman.edu.

35th Annual Jazz Festival Features Randy Brecker

The 35th annual Truman State University Phi Mu Alpha Jazz Festival will present jazz trumpeter Randy Brecker to perform with the Truman Jazz Ensemble at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 22, in Baldwin Auditorium.

Brecker helped found the band "Blood Sweat and Tears" in 1967. Brecker preferred a more jazz-oriented style, so he left the band after just a year and started playing freelance. He has performed with Clark Terry, Joe Henderson and Frank Foster, among others.

Brecker and his brother Michael formed the successful jazz duo "The Brecker Brothers." The Brecker Brothers landed seven Grammy nominations between 1975 and 1981.

The Los Angeles Times proclaims "His crisp, clean trumpet sound and decidedly melodic approach combine to offer an entirely delightful musical expression that could well serve as a beacon for contemporary jazz."

General admission to Brecker's performance is $5 for non-students and free with a valid Truman Student ID. Tickets will be available at the door or in advance by contacting Adam Claypool at 665.5645.

Spencer Named Public Relations Intern

The Truman State University Public Relations Office has announced Matt Spencer, a junior communication major from St. Louis, as the intern for the spring semester.

Spencer assists in writing, producing and distributing, the Truman Today, the University newsletter, as well as posting it on the University Web site. He also assists in writing press releases and performing various office duties.

Spencer maintains a 3.89 cumulative GPA at Truman, and serves as the Public Relations Chair of Beta Theta Pi. He is a member of the Truman Advertising and Public Relations Club and will pursue a career in public relations after graduating in May 2004.

Students interested in applying for the fall 2003 internship should e-mail Heidi Templeton at heidi@truman.edu.

Notables

Jim Barnes, writer-in-residence and professor of comparative literature, is in Italy for the month of February on a Rockefeller Foundation Bellagio Fellowship for the purpose of continuing intensive work on a new manuscript of poems. This is his second Bellagio Fellowship; the first was in 1990 for the purpose of translating the work of Dagmar Nick, a Munich poet and writer. Holders of the fellowships are qualified artists and scholars selected by open competition throughout the world.

Marijke Breuning, associate professor of political science, recently had her article "The Role of Analogies and Abstract Reasoning in Decision Making: Evidence from the Debate over Truman's Proposal for Development Assistance" accepted for publication in International Studies Quarterly. In addition, the article "Donor Characteristics and the Dispersion of Foreign Assistance," she co-authored with John T. Ishiyama, associate professor of political science, was accepted for publication in International Politics.

Michael Bump, assistant professor of music, recently had a new work published. "Studie II: Ephytic," for solo timpanist and percussion quartet, was published and released by Media Press Publications, Inc.

Derek Daschke, assistant professor of philosophy and religion, and Mike Ashcraft, associate professor of religion, recently had essays published in Studies in Jewish Civilization, Volume 12: Millennialism from the Hebrew Bible to the Present, published by Creighton University Press.

Warren Gooch, professor of music, has had three musical compositions accepted for publication. "Soliloquy" for oboe and piano, "Sonata" for soprano saxophone and piano, and "Clarinet Sonata" will be published by Dorn Publications, Inc.

Brenda Higgins, director of the Student Health

Center and assistant professor of nursing, has had two poems, "Birth" and "The Nurse" accepted for publication in "The Heart and Hands of Nursing," a book of poetry published by the University of Wisconsin.

Huping Ling, associate professor of history, was invited by the Overseas Chinese Affairs Office of the State Council of the PRC to give a series of lectures on Overseas Chinese Studies in Beijing, from Dec. 23-28, 2002.

Sylvia Macauley, assistant professor of history, recently had two chapters published. Her section "Health in Africa" appeared in Volume 5 of the series "Africa," edited by Toyin Falola and published by Carolina Academic Press in 2003. "British Colonial Policy and the Roots of Gender Inequality in Sierra Leone" appeared in the book "Stepping Forward: Black Women in Africa and the Americas," edited by Catherine Higgs, Barbara Moss and Earline Rae Fergusson, and published by Ohio University Press in 2002.

Mark Spitzer, professor of English, will have a book of translations published by Creation Books in the UK. The collection will be titled "Anus of the Gods: The Lost Poetry and Prose of Georges Bataille."

The Truman Forensic Union mounted one of their top performances ever, sweeping the top honors of the 43rd Annual United States Air Force Academy Classic, Jan. 24-26. Truman took the overall tournament championship, the debate sweepstakes championship and the individual events sweepstakes championship, along with 42 other individual and team awards. The performance placed Truman ahead of 30 other colleges including such nationally prominent institutions as Colorado State University, Rice University, the University of Southern California and the University of California-Berkeley.
