Several Truman alumni will be honored at various events during Homecoming 2008.

This year's Alumni of the Year are Lanny and Beth (Fisher) Morley, natives of Green City, Mo. They married in 1961 while attending Truman.

Lanny graduated in 1962 with a bachelor of science degree in mathematics, and Beth graduated in 1963 with a bachelor of science degree in business education. Lanny began his career as a mathematics teacher at Kirksville Jr. High, while Beth worked in an accounting office in Brookfield, Mo. In 1964, Lanny earned his master's degree in mathematics education from Truman.

In 1970, he joined the Truman faculty as an assistant professor of mathematics. Twelve years later, he became the division head of mathematics and computer science, and in 1994 he served as acting vice president for Academic Affairs.

After the couple welcomed their first child, Beth became a full-time homemaker and volunteered in various service organizations. All four of the Morleys' children attended Truman. In 2007, Lanny retired as professor emeritus of mathematics and dean emeritus of mathematics and computer science.

The Young Alumna of the Year is Erin Lesczynski, of Alexandria, Va. She works in international relations for the federal government in Washington, D.C.

A Pershing Scholar, Lesczynski graduated from Truman in 2002 with bachelor of science and bachelor of arts degrees in political science. As part of her college experience, Lesczynski studied abroad with the Missouri-London program, interned with Congressman Kenny Hulshof in Washington, and participated in Missouri's International Business Internship Exchange program in Monterrey, Mexico.

In 2004, Lesczynski earned a master's degree in international affairs from Texas A&M University, and she interned with the U.S. Department of State at the U.S. Mission to the United Nations in New York City.

Lesczynski currently serves as vice president of Truman's Mid-Atlantic Alumni Chapter. She is also a member of Truman's Alumni Association Board of Directors, serving as vice chair of the board's Chapter Development Committee.

Ron and Elsie Gaber, G. Ruth (Black) Mach and Wilma (Rayfield) Maddox will each receive the Distinguished Service Award this year.

Ron and Elsie Gaber have served the Kirksville community for more than three decades. Ron currently serves as vice president for Student and Alumni Services for A.T. Still University and is also an associate professor in the Department of Family and Community Medicine. Elsie is the associate dean for ATSU's online School of Health Management.

Ron received his specialist degree in education from Truman in 1982, and Elsie earned her education specialist degree from Truman in 1987.

Ron served as the director of Housing and Residence Life for 12 years at Truman. In 1988, he accepted the dean of students position at Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine (KCOM).

Elsie began her career as a vocational specialist with KCOM, and in 1980, she became an academic advisor for Truman. In 1993, she was one of two recipients of the first O'Donnell-Lee Advising Award, which honors outstanding academic advisors at Truman. In 1996, Elsie moved back to ATSU to serve as assistant vice president of institutional support. The Gabers reside in Kirksville and are members of Truman's Northeast Missouri Alumni Chapter and the Pershing Circle.

Ruth (Black) Mach, of St. Louis, has built a reputation as an innovative and effective educator throughout her career. She currently serves as a consultant for the School District of Clayton (Mo.) and director of substitute teacher orientations.

Mach received a bachelor of science in education from Truman and went on to earn a master of education degree from the University of Missouri-Columbia and a doctorate in educational administration from St. Louis University.

She was appointed to the Truman Board of Governors in 1995 and served until April 2007. During her tenure she served as secretary, vice president and president of the Board. Mach is a member of Truman's Kirk Society. She and her husband, the late Stan Mach ('57, '58), have two sons, Steven and David.

Wilma (Rayfield) Maddox of Macon, Mo., graduated magna cum laude from Truman in 1979 earning a bachelor of science degree. A member of the Truman Board of Governors from December 1993 to March 2008, she served as secretary, vice president and president.

Maddox and her husband Mark are members of Truman's Pershing Circle, and in honor of their ongoing connection to the University, the couple established a scholarship in 2007 to encourage students to participate in a study-abroad experience at Truman. Maddox is also a member of the Truman Chapter of The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi.

Stan and Doris (Pickens) Bohon ('43), of Kirksville, will serve as Grand Marshals of the University's 2008 Homecoming Parade. A Kirksville native, Stan graduated from Kirksville High School and spent three years as a student at Truman before heading to dental school.

Doris grew up on a farm south of Green City, Mo., graduating from Green City High School in 1939, and she earned a bachelor of science in education with two majors, business education and physical education, from Truman in 1943.

As students at the University, Stan and Doris met in Dr. Selby's typing class. Stan says, "One look at Doris and I knew I had met the woman I wanted to spend the rest of my life with." Doris took more convincing, but says, "I was just playing hard to get!" They were married in December 1944.

Doris served on the University's Foundation Board for six years, and Stan and Doris are members of the Truman Northeast Missouri Alumni Chapter, the John R. Kirk Society and the Pershing Circle. The couple resides in Kirksville and spends the winters in Florida, but they say Kirksville will always be home.

United Way Co-Chair Debra Kerby (left), along with United Way Student Chair Emily Walker, University President Barbara Dixon, and United Way Co-Chair Brad Chambers, pledge to "Live United," the theme of this year's United Way campaign. After five weeks, the faculty, staff and students have contributed nearly $43,000, meeting approximately 76 percent of the goal. Contributions make a difference in northeast Missouri. For less than $1 per week, or $50 per year, a family of four has groceries for one week in a shelter; less than $2 per week buys meat products for the food pantry; less than $5 per week assists a family in restoring their electricity; less than $10 per week provides three nights in a safehouse for a family of four; and less than $25 per week provides 300 RSVP volunteers with liability, accident and excess auto insurance while volunteering. For questions regarding the campaign, or to get a replacement form, contact Chambers at bchamber@truman.edu, or Kerby at dkerby@truman.edu.

Career Expo Offers Great Opportunities for Students

The Career Center will sponsor the Career Expo on Oct. 22.

First-year students are encouraged to stop by the Expo to begin networking with employers and gain insights into a career field. Sophomores, juniors and seniors should apply for interview slots and attend the Expo to discuss internship and employment opportunities with the visiting companies. Expo 411, from 11 a.m.-4 p.m. Oct. 15 on the Mall, can help students prepare for the Expo.

Stop by Expo 411 to register for the Expo and to critique your resume, as well as enjoy free food.

Phi Kappa Phi Seeks Educational Supplies for Head Start

Phi Kappa Phi is sponsoring an educational supplies drive to support the nine Head Start centers in the five-county area served by the Northeast Missouri Community Action Agency.

The Head Start programs receive federal and state support, but the cost of supplies has increased while the funding has remained the same. Head Start programs provide early childhood education programs and family and child development activities for children who meet the eligibility requirements, including income, age and special needs.

Art and science supplies are needed, such as construction paper, markers, sidewalk chalk, child size paint brushes and scissors, craft items, stickers, glue and magnifying glasses.

Other items needed are puzzles (8-24 pieces), foam blocks, Lego blocks and play

Athletics Hall of Fame Class of 2008 Announced

John and Melissa Ware, Alec Meinke and Steve Schieppe will be the 2008 inductees of the Truman State Athletics Hall of Fame. The induction will take place during Homecoming weekend Oct. 3-4.

John and Melissa Ware will be honored posthumously for dedicating almost 39 years of service to Truman between the two of them. John passed away in September 2005. Melissa passed away two years later in November 2007.

John was an assistant football coach from 1985-1994, and head coach from 1995-2004. With 54 career wins, John holds the record for third all-time wins at Truman.

Melissa graduated from Truman in 1987 and began working the following year for the University as a full-time Publications Coordinator and Office Manager under Sports Information Director Bill Cable.

Cable retired in 1995, leaving Ware to be named only the second SID in school history. She served in the position until May 2004. Under her direction, the Sports Information Office was the recipient of over 40 national awards for media guides from the College Sports Information Directors of America.

Alec Meinke was a Truman athlete in two sports, football and track, from 1979-1983. As a member of the football team, Meinke was a four-year letter winner and named second team all-MIAA in 1981 and 1982. He was also a member of back-to-back conference championship squads in those years.

In track, Meinke won seven MIAA titles for shot put from 1980-1983. He was a three-year Division II shot put finalist and also qualified for the national meet in the discus in 1983. Meinke currently holds shot put records for indoor at 17.88m and outdoor at 17.69m.

As a member of the Truman men's basketball team, Steve Schieppe holds the records for 300 three-pointers made and is the career leader in field goals made with 652. He finished the 1991 season as the all-time leading scorer in Truman history with 1,796 points, only to be eclipsed by Cory Parker's 1,835 in 2000. Schieppe was named all-conference second team twice in his career and once to the National Basketball Coaches Association all-district second team.

Gerald Burditt was also voted into the Hall, but is unable to attend. He will be inducted at Homecoming 2009.

Phi Kappa Phi faculty vice-president, at heckert@truman.edu.

Phi Kappa Phi is the nation's oldest, most selective, all-discipline honor society. More information can be found at <http://www.phikappaphi.org>.

NOTABLES

Betty L. McLane-Iles, professor of French, authored a historical novel, "Dieppe Crossing," which will be published by XLibris Publishing Corporation. Her novel is a fictional memoir set during the Spanish Civil War on through the years of the French Resistance, ending in the 1980s. McLane-Iles also wrote a poem, "The Debt," that was recently awarded first place in the first round of poetry judging for the Senior Poet Laureate of Missouri competition, and was subsequently given "Honor Roll" status. The poem will appear in the next edition of "Angels Without Wings," a collection of prize-winning poetry of senior poets from all fifty states.

Fourteen Truman McNair Scholars presented at the 12th Annual MKN McNair Heartland Research Conference in Kansas City, Sept 19-21. Presentations were a result of summer research interships. The scholars will also present in Violette Hall 1000 Oct. 1. A presentation schedule is listed below and abstracts can be found at <http://mcnair.truman.edu>.

Debaters Win Awards at William Jewell Contests

Members of the Truman Forensic Union made a strong beginning to the 2008-2009 speech and debate season with several awards at two tournaments held at William Jewell College in Liberty, Mo., Sept. 19-21.

The varsity parliamentary debate team of Mark Buchheit, a junior history major from Carthage, Mo., and Christopher Girouard, a senior communication and political science major from Chesterfield, Mo., participated in the Cardinal Classic Round Robin, an invitation-only competition among 10 of the nation's top individual parliamentary debate teams. Buchheit and Girouard also reached the semifinals of the Georgia Bowman Invitational Sept. 21.

In the junior division of the invitational, Elizabeth Hatting, a freshman political science major from Omaha, Neb., and Stephen Gott, a freshman political science major from Liberty, Mo., reached the final round. Their teammates, Mehdi Zaidi, a sophomore economics major from Chesterfield, Mo., and Susan Presley, a junior communication major from Kirksville, Mo., reached the quarterfinals of the invitational.

In the Lincoln-Douglas debate division of the tournament, Gott, along with Christian Johns, freshman pre-secondary education major from Carthage, Mo., reached the octafinal round.

The team travels next to Bethel College in North Newton, Kan., for the "Sunflower-Sooner Swing," Oct. 10-12, where the team will roll out its individual speaking events, along with several parliamentary teams. The Truman Forensic Union is open to interested students regardless of major or prior experience. Inquiries should be directed to Kevin Minch, associate professor of communication and the director of forensics, at 785.5677 or kminch@truman.edu.

“A Shadow in the Dark”

8 p.m.
Oct. 1-4

James G. Severns Theatre
Ophelia Parrish

Written by Jared Latore, a senior theatre major from O’Fallon, Mo., “A Shadow in the Dark” tells the story of an influential children’s author, tormented by forces he will never understand, as he sows a garden of nightmares and heartaches and descends into madness. Due to strong subject matter, this play is not appropriate for children.

Tickets must be reserved in advance by calling the box office at 785.4515, Monday through Friday from 10:30 a.m. -4:30 p.m.
